The Society is cognizant of the rapid growth and development of ports worldwide and the increasing challenges faced by port personnel in ensuring excellence in our port services. To support our counterparts in the port services industry, we have structured this programme to bring port personnel up to date with relevant port laws and to provide a clear understanding of managing port risks through insurance and claims. Our chosen speakers for the programme will also offer practical tips and guidance based on actual case studies, on ways to overcome the various challenges which are common to ports. The programme will also feature a special session on Artificial Intelligence and the Digitization of Ports, Cyber-Security and Green Port with sustainable practices within a regulatory framework.
